JUDGING PROCEDURE

A. CLASSES - There will be four classes: Coloured Dogs, White Dogs, Coloured Bitches, and White Bitches.

B. CLASS JUDGING - The judge will examine each entry individually. When this preliminary judging is completed, the judge will submit the armband number(s) of the entries which they wish to reexamine in the final round of competition. In each class, the judge will select a maximum of 5 entries for the final competition. The judge should be aware that a great deal of significance is attached to the final round and only the very top entrants should be so rewarded. The judge will also put forth the armband number of any dog they feel should compete for the Movement Trophy. Movement Trophy finalists do not have to be a class finalist. The judge is required to write a critique of each entry he or she selected for the final round of competition. The ring steward will read out the armband numbers of any dogs chosen to move forward for the final class competition, and also for the Movement Trophy. The preliminary judging of the 4 classes, the announcement of each class's finalists

D. FINAL ROUND JUDGING - Each class will be judged again separately. By class, each of the previously selected finalists will enter the ring and will be judged. Best and Reserve of each class will be awarded. Once all 4 classes have had a Best and Reserve announced, the winners of the 4 classes will enter the ring together and will be judged together for the Canadian Shield Trophy (Best in Show) winner. After the Canadian Shield Trophy (BIS) winner is chosen, the Reserve Winner in that animal's class will enter the ring to compete for Runner-up..
