

DISTEMPER AND PARVO TITRES
TO BE HELD AT THE GRCBC EYE AND HEART CLINIC
MAY 4, 2019

The GRCBC is pleased to announce that there will be a blood draw to collect samples from our fellow dog enthusiast's much beloved companions.

Jamie Klein, a Veterinary Technologist is performing the draw and arrange for samples to be submitted to Hemopet for Distemper & Parvo vaccine titre testing.

If you are interested in participating in the Titre Clinic this spring please fill out the paperwork available to download from the site <http://www.hemopet.org/veterinary-diagnostic-laboratory.html>.

YOU WILL NEED TO BRING THIS WITH YOU!

Remember to include your CC info for the lab fee for the specific tests requested as well as an email address to which the results will be sent. This form goes with the blood sample collected from your dog.

The samples will be packaged and shipped to Hemopet that week. You will be notified directly from the lab of the results as soon as they are available (usually within a couple of days for completion of the tests).

The fee is $30/dog for supplies and shipping. Please bring $30 cash which you will be giving directly to Jamie Klein.

If you wish to have your dog's blood drawn at the clinic, please email Christine Kobler at redgold@shaw.ca to let her know you wish to attend so that she can book you in around your eye/heart appointments.
